

Frequently Asked Questions

Can I repeat a course?

Repetition of courses in which a student has received an "A", "B", "C" or "CR" grade is permitted only after a petition is approved by the course instructor and the dean, academic affairs. This permission will be granted if special circumstances are deemed to exist which justify such repetition. Per Title 5, students may not petition to exceed repetition of courses that are already deemed repeatable by the institution, regardless of previous grades earned.

Special circumstances may include:

1. a significant period of time has elapsed since the student first took the course;
2. the subject matter of the course has changed because of changing technology or principles;
3. the student's previous grade is at least, in part, the result of extenuating circumstances.
4. course repetition is permitted without petition when such repetition is necessary for a student to meet a legally-mandated training requirement as a condition of continued paid or volunteer employment. Such courses may be repeated for credit any number of times and are identified in the course description in the schedule of classes.

Students may not WebReg for courses in which they have received permission to exceed repetition. Please contact Admissions and Records for more information.

What is academic probation?

Students are required to maintain a minimum 2.0 GPA ("C") to be in good standing. A student must also complete at least half of the units attempted with a letter grade (A, B, C, D, F) or a CR (credit). What is under construction on the Santa Maria Campus?

Three major construction projects on the Santa Maria campus are well under way. These projects mark the beginning of the largest campus building campaign on the Santa Maria campus since the 1960s.

The $9.1 million remodel and expansion of the Library/Academic Resource Center has completed construction on the renovation portion of the project. The building addition, a two-story facility that will offer open access computer labs and the distance learning classrooms, among other features, is projected for completion in fall 2006.

The $5.7 million Skills Center will replace two outdated and nonfunctioning buildings with a new space that will house desperately needed classrooms and meeting spaces. Completion of the Skills Center is projected for summer 2007. Both the Skills Center and the Library/Academic Resource Center were made possible by funding from Proposition 47 passed by the electorate in 2002.

The $15.7 million Science/Health Occupations Complex is also under construction. This facility will contain new, modern science labs and classrooms that will help alleviate the acute demand for more college lab classes. Completion of the Science/Health Occupations Complex is projected for fall 2007. This construction was made possible by passage of Proposition 55.

See page 120 for more details on each project.

Associate Degree and University Transfer Information

Do you want to earn an associate degree or transfer to a four-year university—or both?

Comprehending the requirements for whatever academic goal you have can be confusing. Counselors are available to assist you in interpreting and understanding requirements as well as developing a plan to achieve your academic goals. There are also many resources available to assist you at www.hancockcollege.edu, click on Student Services.

The requirements for earning an associate degree and the requirements for university transfer are separate. While some of the requirements overlap, there are different rules that govern each objective and different general education patterns for both. However, with careful course planning, it is possible to accomplish the two goals simultaneously.

Associate Degree

In general terms, you must meet the following requirements to earn an associate degree:

- (1) Complete a minimum of 60 degree applicable semester units satisfactorily
- (2) Achieve at least a 2.0 cumulative grade point average
- (3) Complete the general education, health/physical education, reading & written expression proficiency, math proficiency, and the multicultural/gender studies requirements
- (4) Complete courses with a grade of "C" or better required for your desired major
- (5) File a Petition for Graduation by the specified deadline

Preparing for Transfer to a Four-year University

Generally, transferring to universities that accept all students who have met the minimum requirements is typically less complicated than transferring to universities that are competitive. In both cases it is important for students to navigate the complexities of transfer with the guidance of a counselor. In general, the minimum requirements for transfer to a California State University (CSU) or University of California (UC), you must:

- (1) successfully complete a total of at least 60 transferable semester units by the end of the specified term
- (2) achieve at least a 2.0 cumulative grade point average for CSU transfer and at least a 2.4 cumulative grade point average for UC transfer by the specified deadline
- (3) be in good academic standing at the last college or university attended (and at any UC campus previously attended for UC transfer)
- (4) complete the following courses with a grade of C or better by the specified deadline:
 1. English 101 AND English 102 or 103 or Philosophy 114 (or Philosophy 112 or Speech 106 - CSU only)
 2. Math 123 or 131 or 132 or 135 or 141 or 181 (or Math 100 - CSU only)
 3. Speech 101 or 102 - CSU only
 4. Four courses from at least two IGETC areas 3, 4, and 5 - UC only (IGETC pattern available in this schedule)
 5. Courses required to complete areas B1, B2, B3, C, D, and E of the CSU General Education Requirements available in this schedule - CSU only

Don't Delay!

- See an Allan Hancock College University Transfer Center counselor now if you are planning to complete a bachelor's degree.
- See an Allan Hancock College academic counselor if you are planning to complete an associate degree or want to create a student education plan to meet your academic goal.

Completed Units

If you have completed courses at another accredited college or university, you must meet with a counselor to determine how these courses can be used toward associate degree or transfer requirements. There are conditions that must be met in order for this to happen.

Completion of all the requirements in the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) will permit a student to transfer from Allan Hancock College to a campus in either the California State University or University of California system without the need, after transfer, to take additional lower-division general education courses to satisfy campus general education requirements. All courses must be completed with a grade of "C" or better ("C-" is not acceptable.) Courses may not be used in more than one area.

Field Trips

Some classes may be conducted off campus. Unless you are specifically advised otherwise, you are responsible for arranging your own transportation to and from the class site. Be advised that the district assumes no liability or responsibility for the transportation or for any person driving a personal vehicle who is not an agent of the district.

Academic Honesty

Honesty and integrity are essential to the academic community. Faculty, students, and staff are expected to be truthful, trustworthy, and fair in all academic endeavors. Students who violate these principles by cheating, plagiarizing, or acting in other academically dishonest ways are subject to disciplinary action.

Below are examples of academically dishonest behaviors.

- Copying from another student's work without instructor approval
- Giving answers to another student without instructor approval
- Using notes, books, or other unauthorized materials during an exam
- Taking a test for someone else
- Submitting someone else's work as your own
- Completing an assignment for another student
- Using other people's ideas, words, images, or artistic works— from any medium, including the Internet— without acknowledging them with proper documentation

If an instructor determines, after a conference with the student, that the student has been academically dishonest, the instructor at his/her discretion may issue a failing grade on the assignment, fail the student from the course, or take other measures that are reasonable and appropriate. The student may also be subject to further disciplinary action through the vice president of student services.

An appeals process is available to the student through the Office of Student Services.

Student Success Facts

Allan Hancock College each year assists thousands of students to reach a wide variety of educational goals, including completion of associate degrees, completion of certificate programs and successful transfer to four-year institutions.

Each semester, Allan Hancock College enrolls approximately 3,000 full-time students and another 8,000 part-time students. Approximately 1,200 graduate annually with associate of arts degrees, associate of science degrees or certificates of completion. In compliance with the Student-Right-to-Know (SRTK) and Campus Security Act of 1990 (Public Law 101-542), it is the policy of the Allan Hancock Joint Community College District to make available its completion and transfer rates to all current and prospective students. In fall 2001, a cohort of all certificate-, degree-, and transfer-seeking first-time, full-time students were tracked over a three-year period. Their completion and transfer rates are listed below. These rates do not represent the success rates of the entire student population at Allan Hancock College, nor do they account for student outcomes occurring after this three-year tracking period.

Based upon the cohort defined above, 43.6 percent attained a certificate or degree or became 'transfer prepared' during a three-year period, from fall 2001 to spring 2004. The state average is 35.3 percent. Students who are 'transfer-prepared' are defined as those who have completed 56 transferable units with a GPA of 2.0 or better. The college's SRTK transfer rate was 13 percent. Students who received an AHC degree before transferring or who took more than three years to transfer are not included in this percentage.

Keep in mind that SRTK rates, as stated above, are based upon about 3 percent of AHC's student population, and while the cohort definition of tracking first-time, full-time, degree-seeking freshmen may be an appropriate measure for a four-year institution, it examines a much smaller portion of the Allan Hancock College student population.

The rates do not indicate the progress of part-time students; non-degree seeking students; students seeking career refresher courses and professional certifications, and many other student groups.

The college educates many more university transfer students, but not within the narrowly-defined timeline of this study. Others are not counted because they earned a degree before transferring or transferred to a private university not participating in the national program for data collection.

A more meaningful measure of transfer success is the acceptance rate Hancock students experience at universities. This is the percentage of students who are accepted at their university of choice, compared to the number who apply. In fall 2004, 82 percent of Hancock students who applied to UCSB were accepted. This acceptance rate is 22 percent higher than the statewide average. Cal Poly also reports that Hancock students are accepted at a high rate. In fact, in fall 2003, the acceptance rate of Hancock students to Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, was 70 percent, compared to 34 percent overall.

Drug Free Policy

The Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 require institutions of higher education to implement a drug prevention program, which includes the annual dissemination of the following policy on alcohol and drug use.

Allan Hancock College is committed to the success of each student and, as a college, we realize that the use of alcohol and drugs can be a major impediment to success.

There are both physical and psychological health risks associated with drug and alcohol use, including decreased immunity, exhaustion, decreased muscle coordination, depression, confusion, and paranoia, among other conditions. In most cases, anyone who uses drugs and abuses alcohol can expect a decline in the quality of his or her life.

Through the Health and Counseling Services, the Student Athletic Assistant Program (SAAP), and the Human Services Program, Allan Hancock College offers classes, educational programming, resources and counseling, as well as referrals to community service agency counseling and rehabilitation programs.

According to the Standards of Student Conduct, use, possession, distribution, or presence on campus while under the influence of alcoholic beverages, narcotics, or other dangerous drugs is subject to disciplinary action.

Violation of this prohibition will result in appropriate action up to and including expulsion and referral for prosecution, or, as permitted by law, may require satisfactory participation in an alcohol or drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program.

Distance Learning Classes Internet • Video/DVD/TV • Live Video Link

Distance learning offers you the opportunity to earn college credits through self-paced learning that offers maximum flexibility. Some distance learning classes require no on-site activities; others do have required on-site attendance. Please be aware that the college does not provide hardware or software for home use. Check with your instructor to determine specific equipment needs. You should check the information provided in the orientation sections of the distance learning pages for full details.

You must provide the college with a valid email account to participate in distance learning classes.

Students enrolling in distance learning courses may register via WebReg or walk-through registration by the established deadlines. All fees listed on page 6 are applicable to distance learning classes except the Student Center Fee. (Note: Students enrolling in live video link classes based in Santa Maria are required to pay the Student Center Fee.) After registering, students enrolled in distance learning courses usually attend an orientation session where they will receive information regarding course requirements, examination schedules, instructor conferences, and review sessions. The dates and locations of orientation sessions are listed by each course. If a student registers after the orientation session, he or she must contact the instructor immediately. Faculty phone numbers are listed on page 35 of this schedule and email addresses are provided in the orientation section, when available. Email addresses change frequently. If a message to the email address shown is returned to you, please refer to the faculty directory for a current telephone number or check the college's Web site at www.hancockcollege.edu, click people/directory for email addresses.

Those registered students who choose to withdraw from class must follow withdrawal procedures if they do not wish to receive a failing grade (see page 16). For information about any of the procedures listed above, call ext. 3320.

The enrollment size of each online class is limited to the same size as an on-campus class. This ensures that the quality of the teacher-student interaction is maintained.

Register early! Many classes are filled well in advance of the registration deadline.

Distance Learning Calendar

All registration, add, withdrawal, and refund deadlines apply to distance learning students, regardless of where the student resides.

Refer to the calendar on page 3 for specific dates/deadlines.

Not sure if distance learning is right for you?

To check to see if Distance Learning is right for you, go to <http://www.hancockcollege.edu/DistanceLearners/>

Students often wonder if they have the computer skills to take a distance learning class. Recommended computer skills include, but are not limited to, the ability to:

- Use a browser (Internet Explorer, Netscape)
- Use word processing software (Microsoft Word, Works, or Word Perfect)
- Use email, including sending email attachments
- Perform basic file management
- Find information on the Internet (or searching the Internet)
- Complete online forms
- Download and use plug-ins

You are well on your way to success in distance education if you are self-motivated, communicate effectively through reading and writing, can type, have access to a computer and the Internet, and have an email account.

As always, contact your instructor directly if you have questions. Instructor email addresses are listed in the 'orientations' column of these listings.

Be a Successful Online Student

Enroll in Interdisciplinary Studies 379 (1 unit) and prepare yourself to succeed in online and/or hybrid courses.

See INSTDY 379 on page 65.

Learn to

- communicate via email, chat room, or discussion board with instructors and classmates
- design a practical study schedule for online courses
- navigate the Internet using linked resources in Blackboard

Recommended system and software requirements:

To see the current recommended minimum equipment and browser requirements for the online distance learning classes, visit the Allan Hancock College Web site at www.hancockcollege.edu and click Blackboard then Student Help Pages, and System Requirements, Software Requirements.

"Blackboard" is the mechanism used by most instructors for instructional activities. Students must have direct, personal access to the Internet and an email account. The expectation is that the students use the computer themselves and do not work through an intermediary, except in the case of students with physical disabilities. Computers are available at both the Santa Maria campus and Lompoc Valley Center on a first-come, first-served basis. To access class pages via Blackboard, students may point their browsers to <http:// Hancock-online.net> or go to the AHC home page at <http://www.hancockcollege.edu> and click on Blackboard. Instructors will provide more information concerning access to Blackboard, such as login name and password, at orientations.

Your personal security as a distance learning student

Allan Hancock College does not restrict enrollment in distance learning classes any more than it does in on-site classes. The law requires that we admit all qualified students. We encourage you to exercise the same kind of caution in a distance learning class as you would if you were taking an on-site class. Do not share personal information about yourself; do not give a relative stranger or new acquaintance your home phone number or address. Additional advice about maintaining your personal security while enrolled in a distance learning class will be provided during your class orientation.
