1. Club member introductions

The officers of the club individually introduced themselves saying what their educational plans are.

2. Icebreaker crowd introductions

President Ensing asked everyone in the attendance students and professionals to introduce themselves and give a little background. One of the highlights of the introduction was many of the professionals in the room made mention of job openings and encouraged students to apply.

3. Speaker -- Instructor Lesage

Instructor Lesage briefed those present on current happenings within the classes/degree and transfer status of students/ spring projects/ and other items of interest.

4. Speaker -- President Becca Ensing

4.a. Scholarship presentation

Secretary Renee Paul explained the scholarship letter that was handed out, and gave information about the scholarship money fundraising activity of the club.

President Becca Ensing thanked everyone for attending, and mentioned important names of those who were involved in planning the reception (Bianca Melendez, Mason Stoner, Chad Fackler). She also gave an update on club activities, and introduced athletic director Kim Ensing.

5. Speaker – Kim

Department Chair Kim Ensing thanked everyone in attendance, and led a discussion on the status of the major.

The discussion centered on the need for an introductory therapeutic recreation class. Two of the members present Betsy Kiser retired SLO parks and recreation director and Susan Leak Sturgen Registered Recreation Therapist and outreach director for Dignity Health Services spoke to the need and importance of such a class. Kim enlisted them to assist in developing a course outline.

There was further discussion on developing a culinary/wine/recreation certificate for those going into hospitality. No further action was taken on that discussion at that time.

6. Closing

President Becca Ensing thanked everyone again and encouraged mingling amongst themselves.
