Student Spotlight

Meet Khadija, our ASBG and Black Student Union President! Passionate about student advocacy and leadership, she is dedicated to amplifying student voices and ensuring students are represented in campus decision-making. This year, Khadija was selected as the Student Speaker for Hancock Honors, where she shared her story and journey as a student leader. She also recently spoke at the Collective Equity Impact Institute in Anaheim, presenting practical actions students can take to become leaders on their campuses.
As President, she looks forward to creating meaningful opportunities for students and continuing to build a more connected and engaged campus community, so don't hesitate to share your ideas and/or concerns with her. She's here to listen and take action!

Khadija Abdourahamane Moussa

Emily Guzman

Meet Emily Guzman, she is a food technology major hoping to combat the food insecurity crisis through product development and preservation. She received her Plant Science degree in May and now is on the pathway to transferring to Cal Poly SLO. Emily currently serves as the Young Framers and Ranchers club president where she advocates for agriculture education. She also works as a student ambassador and lab assistant for the Plant Science classes. During her free time, she enjoys volunteering for the Natural History Museum, Santa Maria High School Band, and local Future Farmers of America (FFA) Programs!
