Wednesday, August 12, 2020 – 10 a.m.

START HERE. GO ANYWHERE.

With bold visions for the future and a student body of six, Santa Maria Junior College opened its doors in August 1920. The college operated in Santa Maria High School facilities and offered classes that paralleled the lower division curriculum of the University of California. Its mission was to offer quality higher education to area youth without requiring them to leave home.

After three decades of “double occupancy” at the high school, the college made a monumental leap toward its future by acquiring Hancock Field from Capt. G. Allan Hancock in 1954. Shortly thereafter, the name of the college was changed to Allan Hancock College.

Today, with more than 12,000 credit students a semester, Allan Hancock College is delivering on the promise of quality education at home. It offers more than 200 academic and career technical education programs that lead directly to degrees, certificates, great career opportunities, transfer to a university, and individual skills development.

The college challenges its students to excel in every way. In return, Hancock students consistently enjoy high acceptance rates to universities and strong employment opportunities in their chosen career fields.

As one of the premier community colleges in California, Allan Hancock College makes it possible for its students to start here, go anywhere.

MISSION: Allan Hancock College provides quality educational opportunities that enhance student learning and the creative, intellectual, cultural and economic vitality of our diverse community.

VISION: Allan Hancock College will be the recognized leader in student success through excellence in teaching, learning, and services in an environment of mutual respect.

STUDENT PROFILES

MILAN MCGARY

At the age of 4-years-old, Milan McGary was adopted from Haiti.

"Growing up in the United States, I was very fortunate to have a mother who saw the value in providing her children with as many opportunities and experiences that she possibly could, rather than spending it on materialistic things," said McGary.

Those experiences included becoming educated in the arts and exploring the world of athletics. While at Hancock, McGary joined the college's women's basketball team and plans to transfer to a university and pursue a liberal arts degree in order to become an elementary school teacher.

"I also have a dream to help and give back to children in Haiti," said McGary. "It is impossible to recognize the motivation, work ethic, intelligence, wisdom, power, and resilience these children possess when they are struggling just to stay alive. My hope one day is to be able to go back to my birth country and help. Every child deserves a fair chance to be successful in life and be given the same opportunities that I have been so blessed to have grown up with here in the United States."

ARTURO "CHEECH" RAYGOZA

Arturo Raygoza is earning an associate degree in auto body technology. As a formerly incarcerated student, Raygoza changed his odds at Hancock and spent his time at Hancock helping other formerly incarcerated students feel welcomed and accepted on campus and preparing them for success in their college journey.

Raygoza co-founded the Beyond Incarceration Greater Education (BIGE) club. The club started with five members in 2016 and grew to more than 30 members in 2020. He was also a member of the Alpha Gamma Sigma honor society and made the dean's list. Raygoza participated in the AHC Men's Support Group, served as a peer mentor for the college's Beyond Barriers program, and routinely shared his inspiring story with individuals in the juvenile justice and adult parole systems.

"Coming to Hancock was the best decision I ever made," said Raygoza. "The support system here is amazing and helped guide me in the right direction."

Raygoza plans to transfer to a four-year university, where he hopes to pursue a four-year degree, and eventually a Ph.D.

MICHAEL MENSAH

Graduating with a degree in liberal arts with an emphasis in criminal justice, Michael Mensah is transferring on to continue his educational journey at a four-year university. During his time at Hancock, Mensah maintained his status as a full-time working student while serving as captain of the men's basketball team. His future career goals include playing basketball and becoming a sports agent. Mensah also eventually hopes to use his platform in athletics to inform, inspire, and sponsor changes in society in areas like prison reform, laws affecting the formerly incarcerated, and programs for mental health and emotional awareness.

According to Mensah, "Hancock changed my life by helping me develop as a young man on and off the court. Whether it was battling an injury or figuring out which bus to take to get to a class on time, Hancock taught me to embrace challenges head-on in order to accomplish my personal goals. Hancock humbled me by showing me that with diligence, hard work, and faith in God's plan for my life, I truly can 'start here and go anywhere.'"

SARAH GUDEMAN

Sarah Gudeman's path to pursuing higher education includes stops at various community colleges along the way. She attended Yuba College from 2014-2017 where she pursued completing her general education courses. She then transferred to Santa Barbara City College and began pursuing a degree in kinesiology. In the fall of 2018, she enrolled at Allan Hancock College, earned a kinesiology degree and, today, will add a recreational management degree to the mix.

Sarah is a veteran of the U.S. Air Force and was a member of the college's women's basketball team, which this past year clinched a play-off berth for the second time ever.

"Being a student-athlete can be hard to balance at times and very time consuming, but it's really rewarding being a part of a team and knowing that they have your back and are there to help if you need it," Gudeman said.

Gudeman's future career goal is to teach physical education and coach basketball.

STUDENT PROFILES

TYLER LITTLE

Tyler Little is earning an associate degree in film and video production. In addition to his studies, Little also worked to serve and support his fellow students, participating in a wide range of campus organizations, clubs, and activities.

Little is a veteran of the United States Air Force, serving six years of active duty. At the end of his enlistment, he enrolled at Hancock to pursue his dream of becoming a film director. While attending Hancock, Little won awards for best cinematography and best documentary at the college's film festival. Hancock's Career Center helped him establish relationships with film industry professionals, allowing him to work on Hollywood productions.

This past year, Little served as the president of Hancock's Associated Student Body Government (ASBG), as a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma, and as a student ambassador.

Little plans to transfer to a four-year university, complete his bachelor's degree, and begin his career as a film director.

DIANA DE LEON

As a member of Allan Hancock College's women's soccer team, Diana De Leon made her mark as a Bulldog athlete.

Diana was one of six women's soccer players who scored All-Western State Conference North recognition, additionally earning an All-WSC North Second Team spot. Her presence in the defensive zone allowed the lady Bulldogs to have its best defensive season yet.

Off the field, De Leon pursued an Associate Degree for Transfer in psychology and used the student support services of CAN-Trio.

"Hancock taught me to be a more independent student, which prepared me for a university," said De Leon. "The clubs on campus encouraged me to love learning and interacting with many different people. Hancock changed my life because it helped me reach for the stars and make great opportunities for myself. I'm very grateful for Allan Hancock College and what is has taught me over the past two years."

Diana is transferring to Fresno State University on a full-ride scholarship for women's soccer.

ALEJANDRA ESTRADA AND MAX ESTRADA

Brother and sister Max and Alejandra Estrada graduated from Hancock's licensed vocational nursing (LVN) program this past year, both earning an associate in science degree. "Allan Hancock College has been amazing! It changed our lives by giving us the opportunity to pursue our career path and goals," said Max.

The Estrada's are first-generation college students whose father was the single provider for their family's household, working in the fields from 5 a.m. until 6 p.m. They both decided to pursue a career in nursing and enrolled in Hancock's CNA and LVN nursing programs together. Alejandra and Max said they were inspired to enter the nursing program by their grandfather, who passed away after battling cancer.

"We are one another's backbone. We encourage, challenge, and motivate one another not to give up," said Alejandra. While they celebrate graduation, both siblings are already looking to the future. They are both enrolled in the college's registered nursing (RN) program, which they plan to complete in December 2020.
