Transfer Overview

Allan Hancock College now offers a new way for you to transfer to the California State University system. The simplified process allows students who complete an Associate in Arts Transfer Degree (AA-T) or Associate in Science Transfer Degree (AS-T) to receive priority admission into the CSU System.

Simply choose your major and complete 60 semester units of required general education coursework and major-specific lower division coursework. Students who have earned an AA-T or AS-T are admitted to a CSU at junior standing with the opportunity to complete a baccalaureate degree with 60 additional semester units.

An AA-T or AS-T degree guarantees admission to a California State University, but not necessarily a specific campus or major, so to stay competitive, make sure you keep your grades up and that you meet the admissions requirements for the CSU campus and major that interest you most.
